Amendment #	Description
	When a person sues another person and the amount of money is over $20.00, the case may be decided by a jury, and the decision will be final. □
	The powers not given to the national government are given to individual states.
	The government cannot stop citizens from keeping guns because the military is necessary to keep peace.
	Citizens have the right to be safe in their houses, their belongings, and their persons against unreasonable searches and seizures. If the government wants to search anything, they must have a search warrant which tells what they are looking for and where they can search. □
	Congress cannot make a law that limits freedom of religion, free speech, free press, or the right of people to get together in groups, or the right of people to ask the government to correct things they don't like. □
	No person can be charged with a crime unless the charges have been brought by a grand jury
	When a person is accused of a crime, he or she will have a quick and public trial. The jury will be fair.
	No soldiers can be kept in people's homes in time of peace, without the permission of the owner; if in time of war, certain laws have to be followed. □
	People have other rights that are not listed here. □
	Excessive bail or fines cannot be required. No cruel or unusual punishment is allowed. □
